BRIEFS by PORTIA

THE TIME IS NOW

The time is now. VOTE! It doesn't matter for whom, but it does matter how! To vote correctly one must vote intelligently, and voting intelligently means more than taking a last gander at the balloting diagram, complete with X's in the morning paper and dashing into the polling booth to pull the levers in the pattern prescribed by the aforementioned daily.

Intelligent voting, the only type of voting which will insure the permanency of democracy, means thoughtful study of the sample ballot, with judgements based on intellectual not emotional foundations and judgements on local as well as national issues.

Every registered voter has a copy of the sample ballot. The next three days call for unprejudiced thinking and decisions. Vote! The time is now!

SURE-FIRE PREDICTION

Don't be a Gallup wreck,, shun
All forecasts for election,
For the political complexion
Lacks the glamor gal perfection;
If from doubt you crave vacation,
Here's some inside information—
We'll predict who'll guide the nation
In the next administration;
Truth may be more strange than fiction,
So sans fear of contradiction
In our super-duper diction
We can make sure-fire prediction;
High man in electoral calculation
Will be head man at Inauguration!

"SHOE, SHOE BABY"

"You got shoes, I got shoes,
But where'll our chilluns get shoes?"

All come in on the down beat for a second chorus! There was a time when Junior's stamp collection went in for rosy squares centered with a white elephant, an air mail stamp from Siam, but now, grandma, grandpa and all the aunts and uncles are being needled for shoe stamps instead. And a good thing, too, or any day now Junior would be footing it like Huck Finn and unlike oysters, the barefoot boy season is only open in the months without an "R". The brown brogues Junior buys one week, fully equipped with plastic soles, in a fortnight are brown brogues, lacking in soles, plastic or otherwise, which means the immediate cashing in on another shoe stamp. Do you remember those nostalgic days when shoes could be resoled in 48 hours. But this is an era of "No shoes accepted for repair this week."

If by pulling out all the tremolo stops one has acquired an extra shoe stamp there is the little matter of fitting Junior. "On the double" you pound the pavements from shop to shop seeking 2 B's in any color, any style. That does it, and Junior's footgear goes all out for victory, but definitely, and join the other lost "soles." Now, Junior doesn't even get to step up on the x-ray machine, wiggle his toes and see all. The shoe salesmen do not let you get near enough to the store to rate a brush off, they meet you on the sidewalk, take one look at Junior's tattered oxfords and go into their best imitation of "Shaky" burbling the inevitible "Can't fit the young man!" then, rally to inquire "But how about a genuine leather handbag for "Modom?" If all the out-

Lions' Halloween Party Howling Success

The Halloween party given by the Lions Club for Menlo youngsters last Tuesday was an unequaled success from every point of view. Fil Gianotti, chairman in charge of the party, deserves unstinted praise.

Central School auditorium was packed from the stage to the top seat in the gallery with children in gaily-colored costumes. Many of the mothers must have taken special care in the planning of some of these get-ups and results were well worth their efforts. Some of the children looked like little porcelain figurines. Little Diane Wickstrom wore a hula costume with silver skirt and had white leis around her neck. Mickey and Minnie Mouse were present, also o little girl dressed as Queen of Hearts. One little tot was beautifully costumed in a pale blue satin dress of the gay nineties, complete with bustle and feathered velvet hat. A little boy dressed in a Mexican blanket wore a hat which measured at least four feet in diameter. One of the outstanding costumes was the Scots kilt outfit worn by little Anne Martini—velvet jacket, plaid kilt skirt, and she wore a Glengarry bonnet on her dark brown curls. This costume is 60 years old.

A group of children were gathered on the stage in front of a microphone, as amateur talent. O. H. Olson and Wallace Ott acting as master of ceremonies, put these youngsters through their various acts—recitations, songs, piano solos, duets, trios and quartettes. The kids went through their performances with a dogged determination over a bedlam racket.

Three boys, William Hassell, Albert Azcarate and Fred Blaisdell literally brought the house down with their burlesque rendition of rhymed advertising, singing their version of "Super Suds." They were a knock-out hit.

A group of some 30 children received prizes for attractive costumes; judges of this event were Mrs. Albert Giannotti, Mrs. Mario Paccioretti and Mrs. Roy Hurd.

Winners in this group, after much deliberation were the following children:

Diane Wickstrom, Martha Wendt, Annette Ott, Sandra Fickes, Barbara Curtis, Nancy Walker, Anne Martini, Philip Rourk, and Kenneth O'Hara.

After prizes were distributed, refreshments were served. William Cutter presiding as chief of the commisary department. Then animated cartoon movies were shown.

Members of the Lions club deserve great credit for staging this Halloween party each year. They give the kids a good time and keep them off the streets where their mischief making in years past was something of a nuisance to say nothing of the fact that we no longer have to worry about property destruction on Halloween night since the Lions Club has taken over.

The men who handle this party also have the good sense to allow the kids to enjoy themselves in their own way. They plan no supervised amusements. They provide the hall, the prizes, and the refreshments, turn the kids loose and let them go to it.

Weltner Indians Skin Beavers

After a lay-off of two weeks, the Weltner Indians tripped to San Francisco to skin the Benioff Beavers in their second scheduled "B" league game last Sunday at Glen Park.

Andy Ramirez pitched his usual good game allowing 5 hits, walking 3, and striking out 12, besides scoring two mates with a timely single.

In the past 3 games Ramirez has made a record of 33 strike-outs.

The Indians gave him good support as they gathered 13 hits from the Beaver pitchers.

Bob Abler and Pete Rodriguez played a bang-up game while Cecil Cane had a perfect day at the plate, hitting 3 for 3.

Bill Janssen made several nice running catches of hard-hit balls. He is a hustling ball player who is bound to make a name in baseball.

FOOD SALE TOMORROW

Homemade cakes, cookies and pies are the tempting fare available tomorrow, November 4, at the pastry sale at 1045 El Camino Real, just next door to the Recorder office. The sale is being given by the Mother's Club of St. Joseph's School. The sale begins at 10 a.m. and closes when the last cookie is popped into a bag.

Mrs. Mervin Steinberg, who is chairman of the affair, will be assisted by Mrs. Frederick Durrant, Mrs. W. Howard Boren, Mrs. E. E. Rowe and Mrs. G. C. Cranor.

WAR CHEST

The War Chest Drive is entering its last week with workers making an intensive effort to swell the $2,740 already collected. Canvassers are still having trouble finding people at home and for that reason Mrs. Florence E. Ohler, chairman of the local drive, has set up a booth in the bank Saturday morning from 10 to 12 to accomodate them.

AMERICAN LEGION URGES "YES" VOTE ON PROP. ONE

Menlo Park Post 443, American Legion and its auxiliary urges you to vote yes on proposition 1 on the November 7 ballot.

Because it will provide the opportunity for honorably discharged veterans of World War II to avail themselves of State credit to purchase a home or farm under most favorable circumstances at no cost to California taxpayers.

The proceeds of this $30,000,000 bond issue will be loaned to California veterans under the same basic plan as has been in effect for 22 years whereby 20,000 veterans of World War I have become property owners and more stable citizens. This plan has proven to be a practical means of showing appreciation to returning California veterans.

Beside the local Legion, proposition 1 has been endorsed by the Lions club, Men's Club of St. Joseph's, Veterans' Home and Farm Committee, of which Phil Blanchard is chairman, Joseph Kelly, vice chairman and Frank Ellis, secretary.

P.T.A. TO SELL APRONS

The November meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held Friday, November 10 at the Central school auditorium. A variety of very attractive aprons will be offered for sale preceding the meeting which starts at 1:30 p.m.

"Opportunities Offered In Adult Education" will be the topic of the meeting and will be presented by F. S. Mayo, principal of the evening classes at Sequoia high school.

A social hour will follow and arrangements have been made to care for small children.

WINTER FASHIONS

Our southern clime may not glisten with silver frost, or sparkle with the crystal prisms of icicles but winter fashions are synonymous with elegance and the style trend this season is brilliant with the glitter of sequins, ice beads and metallic motifs flashing back the bright rays of the social spot light.

Localites are anticipating the Fashion Show Luncheon Monday, November 6, at the Allied Arts sponsored by the Palo Alto Junior Auxiliary of the Stanford Convalescent Home. This is the final fashion show in the present series but they will be resumed in February.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Carl Stephens of Palo Alto, assisted by Mrs. Frederic West of Menlo Park and Mrs. Leander P. Hamilton of Palo Alto.

Among those having reservations for the Monday luncheon are Mrs. Frank Walker and Mrs. W. B. Imholt of Atherton.

ELECTION WATCH PARTY

An election watch party and supper are planned by the William Mackenzies who have invited a group of friends to join them next Tuesday evening about the radio in their Woodside home and tune in to election returns.

CRYSTAL ANNIVERSARIES

Crystal wedding anniversaries were the inspiration of two dinner parties this week. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Mario Paccioretti celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary with an informal dinner party at their home.

Tomorrow evening, the fifteenth wedding anniversary of the Fil Giannottis, is the occasion for a dinner for 22 to be given at their home on Lennox avenue.

HONOR GUEST

To compliment her house guest, Mrs. Ruth Kurtz of Pasadena, Mrs. L. C. Fitzgerald will entertain with a luncheon tomorrow at the Allied Arts.

Mrs. Kurtz arrived on Wednesday to be a guest at the Fitzgerald home for a week or ten days.

TRICK OR TREAT

It is news when "Man Bites Dog" and it also is news when grown-ups don masks and costumes to turn tables on trick or treatsters. Halloween night found a new tradition in the making when Richard Lyons, father of Sylvia, Janny and Willis, did himself up as the Canterville Ghost to the surprise and delight of the youngsters who besieged the Lyons home on Arden avenue for trick or treat.

Just across Arden, Mrs. Ola Love, Babs Balzer's grandmother, donned mask and shawl to play the role of the Halloween witch. Already other parents are planning costumes for Halloween, 1945.

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS

Tuesday night a gay crew of ghosts and goblins gathered to celebrate Halloween with young John Rode, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Rode. Traditional Halloween games and a wiener roast by the great fireplace in the house instead of the originally planned moonlight barbecue were highlights of the evening.

Among John's guests were Don and Terry Hillis, Jackie Steinberg, Joyce Thomas, Peter and George Finchon, Jo Horn, Ronald Collingham, Bucky Longwell and Jamey Rode.

WINGED VICTORY

"Winged Victory," the Army Air Force production is showing at the San Francisco Opera House for the next three weeks with the proceeds going to Army charities.

Among the first nighters were Lt. Alfred Ducato, USN and Mrs. Ducato who braved the stormy weather to dash up from their Atherton home to see the entertaining musical.

PHILATHEA CIRCLE

Mrs. D. A. MacDonald and her daughter, Miss Etta MacDonald, will be the hostesses at the regular November meeting of the Philathea Circle which will be held on Tuesday, November 7, at the parlors of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Robert Stoares, soprano, will be the soloist for the evening.

The meetings formerly held on the last Thursday of the month in the future will convene on the first Tuesday.

Friday, December 1, is the date chosen by the members for their musical entertainment, "A Night of Stephen Foster." Mrs. A. B. Skare is program chairman, with Mrs. Charles Pennypacker Smith assisting with the historical program notes. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Paul Bryant, who is in charge of the stage sets, Mrs. Vera Lightbody, costumes, and Miss MacDonald, chairman of the committee for refreshments.

Birthday Party For Sandra Fickes

Mrs. Ray Fickes gave a birthday party last Saturday for her little daughter Sandra who was seven years old on that date. Sandra and her little guests were seated at a table decorated in Halloween colours. A big birthday cake formed the table centerpiece, and tall yellow candles shed a soft glow over the scene.

After luncheon, the little girl opened her gifts brought to her by other children and they all played games in the living room for an hour or so then Mrs. Fickes shoved them out into the back garden for the rest of the afternoon.

Sandra's guests were Jackie Giannotti, Donna Lee Fallis, Emmy Lou Campagne, Janice and Diane Weimert, Eveleen Johnston, Frank Cuddy, Harry Cuddy, Norman and Sharon Johnston, Lynn Armstrong, Benny Assenza, Sandy Walker, Beverley Podany, Dennis and John Facchino, and Gail and Johnny Urheim.

It's a good thing that Ollie Fickes likes to entertain, for the next day she gave a birthday dinner for her husband at which the following guests were present to wish Ray many happy returns: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Podany, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilberg, Mr. and Mrs. Albin Johnson, all of Menlo Park; and from Berkeley: Barbara and Carolyn Whittier, Beryl Whittier, Elvin and Hazel Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Mae Fickes and Lester Fickes.

THE "CLIMAX"

Commencing Sunday, November 5, and running 4 days, Menlo Theatre will have the first peninsula showing of "The Climax," a technicolor picture. Those of you who liked the "Phantom of the Opera," will enjoy "The Climax." Susanna Foster again has a singing role. Most of the play is set in an opera-house—wonderful ballet scenes and gorgeous costumes being featured.

Boris Karloff plays the villian and Turhan Bey, who made such a hit in "Dragon Seed," plays an important role in the picture. It's a "must see" production.

PRAISES ANDERSON

James Armstrong

"I am for Jack Anderson for Congress because he endeavors to represent ALL the people of his district regardless of race, color, occupation ,or political affiliation. He believes in an independent Congress made up of independent congressmen," said James Armstrong, prominent Menlo Park businessman. "Anyone who has analyzed Congressman Anderson's record will clearly see that he voted purely on the basis of what is right for the people of his district and his country. With such a true American in Congress, able and experienced, we can look to the future with confidence. Never in the history of this country has able, experienced representation been so necessary, and Jack Anderson has every qualification for being returned to Congress. If we are to secure the peace for which our boys fought so bravely, we must have the right type of elected representatives. Let's not experiment. Vote for experience on November 7, and return Jack Anderson to Congress."

Lady Rosebud Makes Debut

One of the social highlights of the Candlelight Christmas Tea scheduled for the afternoon of December 8, at Palo Alto Community Center, and benefitting Corpus Christi Monastery, will be the official debut of Lady Rosebud. Her career, launched on this auspicious occasion, promises to carry through the winter season, but this coming-out party will mark her introduction to the public.

Lady Rosebud, whose tantalizing name possesses symbolic as well as sentimental significance, if of the aristocracy of Dolldom, and certainly the "catch" of the year for anyone interested in dolls, either as a member of the family nursery or as an ornament and souvenir of the days when doll-making was a fine art.

The Lady stands three feet tall in her golden evening slippers, and she has been turned out by one of toyland's most exclusive couturieres The line of her tiered lace gown, the authentic imported flower appliques at shoulder and corsage, the sweep of her fur-bordered ruby velvet evening wrap with matching turban, crowning her chestnut curls, and the detail of a genuine crystal necklace would draw admiring glances even amid San Francisco's opera-goers.

Nor is Lady Rosebud's beauty only skin deep. She is a genuine jointed doll with a bisque head and particularly charming features. Her background makes her something of an heirloom, and the price at which she has been evaluated by connoisseurs puts her quite at the top of any register of Dolldom's superlative heiresses.

Incidentally, the Lady is at present engaged in pre-party shopping. Peninsula visitors to Palo Alto are likely to see the celebrity this week in Walster's Baby Shop, and next week Hink's customers will hob-nob with her Ladyship. She will be most gracious in response to their attention. Subsequently, she returns to her Menlo Park home, and local residents should not be surprised to find her ensconced in Lucille's, and quite eager to bestow her "autographed" calling card ,so to speak, right and left.

VETERANS

ARE FOR ANDERSON

Jack Anderson has proved himself a true friend of the Veteran. He supported the G. I. Bill of Rights . . . absentee ballots for members of the armed forces . . . increased compensation or pensions to disabled veterans and their widows and children . . . additional appropriations for emergency maternity and infant care for wives of enlisted men . . . increased pay to service men. Dr. O'Neill for Supervisor

San Mateo's sole contest in the forthcoming November election is for the position of supervisor from the Third district. Dr. A. E. O'Neill, who headed the list of four candidates at the primaries, is the outstanding contender for the office. He is making a strong bid for success, and seems to be drawing to his side the mature-thinking, non-political people, who have no axes to grind and are just interested in seeing able men in office.

Dr. O'Neill will make a good supervisor. He is intelligent and aggressive, and he has an abiding faith in and love for San Mateo county. We will need men like him to handle the complex problems of the next four years, years which are destined to see the whole Peninsula enter upon a new era of progress.

He is a man of strong convictions, and experience has shown that he will fight for them, no matter what the opposition. He demonstrated his independence and his judgment as a member of the county health and welfare board during its early combatant years. He is making it clear in this campaign that he is running entirely on his own record and without the blessing or help of any county political group. In this way he assumes office free from entanglements, political or otherwise.

Dr. O'Neill is a veteran of the first World war. He enlisted as a private and he came out as a private, although he had had several chances at promotion. He knows at first hand about the problems of the enlisted man and has, in fact, been chairman of Redwood City's draft rehabilitation committee. One of his most earnest responsibilities as supervisor will be to see that the fighting men of this war will get all the legitimate help he and the county can give them when they return to settle down.

One of the most sincere tributes to his ability and his character was the recent letter from his former rival, Evans Fletcher of Redwood City, in which Fletcher said, "Since I . . . have faith in your ability and sincerity to serve this county well, I want you to know I am supporting your candidacy in this November election."

Although a candidate for supervisor from the Third district, which comprises the southern part of the county, Dr. O'Neill must be elected by all of San Mateo county. This wise provision in the charter makes each supervisor representative of the county as a whole as well as of the district in which he resides.

QUICKER THAN THE EYE

Magic in all its modern phases is the theme of the show produced by Don Gilmore, son of Mrs. Ladymay Gilmore of Atherton, and Robert Silver, both students at Menlo School.

Though his talents follow a different line of show business, Don has the same flare for the theatre as his sister, Virginia Gilmore, the well-known young actress, who now is in rehearsal in New York for Moss Hart's latest, "Dear Ruth."

Last Saturday Don and Bob presented their performance at the Veterans' Administration hospital, last night they trod the boards at the Palo Alto Elks Club and tomorrow, have a matinee at the Menlo Theatre. Later in the month they will perform for the men at Dibble Hospital.

IT ISN'T OFFICIAL BUT

It isn't official but rumor has it now that the Menlo Park-Atherton Red Cross has changed its address from 1045 El Camino Real to 525 Santa Cruz avenue. It is planning an open house in the not to distant future to familiarize its workers and friends with the new headquarters.

Among those present were Janet's small sister, Jane, Susan Holt, Patty Maxwell, Nancy Walsh, Cecile Scotford and Susan Greisser.

FOR GOODNESS SAKE

From Long Island, N.Y., comes this delectable recipe for chocolate dessert cookies. Mrs. Charles Pennypacker Smith received it from her sister in the east and is passing it on with the word that these cookies are perfect to send away during the holiday season because of their soft texture.

The following ingredients are needed: One quarter pound of butter or other shortening, 1 cup of sugar, 2 eggs, three quarters of a cup of milk, 2 cups of sifted flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, 1 cup of raisins, 1 cup of chopped nuts, 2 squares of melted chocolate, one half teaspoon of vanilla and a pinch of salt.

To creamed shortening add sugar, and cream the mixture. Beat in whole eggs, add vanilla to milk and add this liquid alternately with the dry ingredients, then, beat in the melted chocolate and finally stir in the raisins and nuts. Drop from the tip of a teaspoon onto a well-greased cookie tin and bake 12 minutes in a 375 degree oven.

ANCHORS AWEIGH

Midshipman's School at Asbury Park, N.J., is the present address of Donald Burke, who left last Wednesday after a fortnight's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burke of Del Norte avenue. A Message To The Citizens
—OF—
Menlo Park
Atherton, and Surrounding Area

This area of San Mateo County faces a tremendous development and growth after the war.

The manner in which we handle this expansion period will have a great effect on the well-being of Redwood City Port Commission every citizen.

Many of these problems will depend on capable, intelligent representation on the County Board of Supervisors.

For this reason we unanimously recommended to all of the voters of this area HENRY W. EDMONDS (lieutenant colonel retired) as SUPERVISOR FROM THE THIRD DISTRICT.

Colonel Edmonds is experienced in civil affairs. His service on the Redwood City Council, and the attest to his ability to handle important matters. He is progressive, capable and qualified, and decides every issue on its merits. His overseas service in this war, actively in charge of 30,000 men, has given him a working knowledge of what the men of our armed forces will need and expect when they come home.

Menlo Park, Atherton, the whole Third Township area needs Colonel Edmonds on the Board of Supervisors. We urge that you vote for him next Tuesday.

In the primary election, the Third Township, which knew the candidate best, made Edmonds high man, his present opponent third.

size leather handbags (complete with 20 per cent Federal tax) were laid end to end all the small fry could solve the housing problem for their pedal extremities. Why there is leather for those wardrobe trunks we laughingly call purses, while children's shoes seem to be whipped up from reclaimed comic books is something only the OPA knows, or does it?

Sure and wasn't it a black day they dreamed up those plastic soles. Since they are standard equipment, the hardwood floors have more black marks than Laval boast in his unspeakable record in France. When it comes to the house the only way to "keep it clean" is to have a try at the old Dutch custom of leaving shoes on the front stoop, if the pup buries them with his bones it comes under the heading of "just too bad!"

And while we are carrying the torch, how about those unmentionables for moppets? If they don't want Junior running around in his birthday suit, there will have to be an open season on rabbits so Daddy can fix him up with some furry BVD's which on Baby Bunting look good but not on Junior. But the time has come when as and if it isn't a rabbit skin it is going to be a "bare skin" for Junior.

The head of the children's ready-to-wear in the OPA must have been frightened by a Henry Aldrich broadcast, because what happens to the younger generation shouldn't happen to Baby Snooks.

So "Shoe, shoe, baby!"—it's a big order!

BETTER ENGLISH CAMPAIGN

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are having a "Better English Campaign." It is being held for three months under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Rogers who is the English teacher. Whenever anyone notices another student making an error in English, he writes it and the correct form on a slip of paper which is put in the box in the hall.

Sally Weeks and Donna Boutelle are arranging an honor roll for the eighth grade. It contains the names of the people who are able to keep from making three mistakes. Everyone's name was on the honor roll this week. Holly Imholt is in charge of a similar roll for the seventh grade and Roger Ahlenius and Barbara Mills have the sixth grade. This campaign should be a great assistance in correct speech.

Last Friday afternoon the Junior Red Cross held a food sale on the school grounds featuring cookies, candy, and cupcakes which sold for five cents each. The booth was managed by Joe Kelly, Marie Casey and Ellen Wagner, under the direction of Miss Smith. Total sales for afternon was $7.50.

State Chamber of Commerce Raps No. 12

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10 (UP)—A statement reaffirming opposition of the California State Chamber of Commerce to the "right to work" amendment, No. 12 on the November 7 ballot this year, was released today over the signature of Harrison S. Robinson of Oakland, president.

He pointed out the State-wide business group announced its opposition at Los Angeles meetings on two previous occasions before the amendment qualified for the ballot. One was April 14, the other June 23, and the reaffirmation was given by the board of directors at Sacramento last Friday, Robinson said.

Robinson added:

"In view of public statements made by others in which the position of the chamber has been misinterpreted, the chamber de s to be on record that it is opposed com- pulsory union membership con- dition of employment, bu cog- nizes the right of employe employes to contract volunta they see fit.

War Mothers! Wives! Let's act on the suggestion of the State Chamber of Commerce! Let's vote NO on No. 12. We must insure peace on the home front to keep faith with the boys on the war front. They'll be coming home soon. They'll want jobs at decent wages—not industrial strife, not coolie wages, not half-portions on the dinner table and, not a lower standard of American living. Grave dangers lurk in the wording of No. 12. This measure comes as a wartime attack on war production. It threatens chaos now and in the post war world. No. 12 threatens the security of every wage earner. Let's join with all our might in opposing un-American No. 12. As a leading editor warns, it "threatens civil war in California". And, Ladies, remember . . . Governor Earl Warren, the State Chamber of Commerce, civic leaders and scores of representative organizations ask you to—
